Customer Reviews

These are fantastic! I didnt even realize they were touch and feel when I ordered them. BONUS! My little one has been really engaged with these and on the back there are lots of fun questions and even game suggestions to play with your little person! I'm so glad I ordered all 3 sets! Great quality! Very thick durable cardboard. Do yourself and your little one a favor and order Colors and Shapes, Animals and First Words!

I like this product overall, but I just wish the cards would have more variety in texture. They have a variety of five or six different textures for 15 cards. I love the "fur" part for some of them but many/most of them just have plain fabric in different colors. While the cards say they are "touch and feel" picture cards, many of them just have some shiny paper for the texture part.

I love these so much I will be purchasing the others soon. They are not only educational, but are entertaining for kids, too. The colors and shapes in a different language is a major plus. Even though we're getting an early start, I feel confident my child is learning already.

Love all the other boxes, but this one was not our favorite. The shapes and colors were somewhat confusing. Your trying to learn shapes...a pink heart purse it too much all in one. Maybe a pink heart, OR a pink purse. Was a little strange....

We bought several of these My First picture flash cards and we love them. Very sturdy and each card features a sensory area that correlates with the picture. For example, the Duckling card has an area that is Yellow & furry for you to feel; it encourages the child to be more engaged and adds an extra element of fun! Will purchase other sets.

I love these cards and so my son does. He has some speech delay and we are working on it and the cards keep him interested and he learns all colors shapes animal names and sounds so fast. Very good product. Thank you

My 2 year old grandson LOVES these cards!! He plays with them daily, the quality is great, the color is wonderful, the way the colors and items on the cards are set up are done very well!! I have bought every one they have in their set. He has learned every item on the cards, and enjoys going through the cards several times a day. I highly recommend these. Because the quality is so good I will be able to use these for my 2 baby grandsons as well.

It's sturdy and it's fun for the little ones. I have been using this for my daughter since she was 8 months old. She is now 14 months and enjoys playing with them. Starting out all she did was chew and touch them, now she stares at them. The card stock used is tough, so it will definitely last if any parent is concerned. I would recommend this product as well as the other touch and feel products this company offers. Great Product!
