Stephen J. Pavlidis has been cruising The Bahamas and Caribbean since the winter of 1989. Starting in the Exuma Cays, 15 years ago, Steve began his writing career with guides to the many fascinating destinations he visited. Many of his books stand alone to this day as the quintessential guides to the areas he covers. His books are different from most other cruising guides in some very significant ways. All of the charts in Steve's books were created using data personally collected while visiting each area using a computerized system that interfaces GPS and depth soundings.
