Rainforest

Synopsis

There are no places on Earth more mysterious, complex, and unknown than tropical rainforests. Combining stunning photographs by the world's leading nature photographers—including new work by Tim Flach—with an inspiring text by award-winning author Lewis Blackwell, Rainforest opens our minds to the breathtaking beauty of these remarkable ecosystems, with their verdant plant life and diverse animal species. Swooping from aerial to macro perspectives, the book captures the world's most fascinating landscapes at all scales, from a vast sleeping forest cloaked in morning mist to the brilliant iridescent flicker of a butterfly's wing.Â

Lewis Blackwell is an author, editor, and creative director in photography, whose numerous books include The Life and Love of Cats and More than Human. He is a former worldwide creative head of Getty Images and editor in chief of Creative Review.Â

I saw this book at a boutique in Nashville, TN and wanted to get it for my boyfriend's coffee table. It was $60 at the store but I got it for about $15 online, brand new. The pictures are gorgeous and it's the perfect coffee table book.

Arresting photography of rainforest creatures, many of them close up.

BEAUTIFUL A STEAL AT $24.95

Incredible book with absolutely beautiful pictures!

Amazing Book! Beautiful pictures!

Love it

Beautiful book!

This book is beautiful! The photographs are stunning and bold. In the back of the book, there are captions describing all photographs including location and subject. Also, some photos have a more detailed story from the photographer. Recommended.
